Yeah, He is a wealth of knowledge, but wants to sell it. He suggested I have our contractor hire him. I explained that I cannot do that. He has tried to get Glencore to hire him or have their contractor hire him. There is some history of why he quit, and disgruntled would come to the surface. He also asked if he could have the grant money to be the technical expert for a TAG he wanted to start. Once we explained the process he didn't seem interested anymore.

Just a little fyi
